JEWISH HOLIDAYS 5777

Note: Holidays begin at sundown of the previous day.

OCT 3 – 4, 2016
Rosh Hashanah
Literally meaning “Head of the Year,” Rosh Hashanah marks the beginning of the Jewish calendar year. It begins a ten-day period of repentance and prayer which ends on Yom Kippur. The holiday is celebrated with feasts and apples dipped in honey to symbolize the hope for a sweet year to come.

OCT 12, 2016
Yom Kippur
The Day of Atonement is the holiest day of the Jewish calendar, marking the end of the 10 days of repentance. It is spent in fasting and fervent prayer. Sounding the shofar signals the holiday’s end.

OCT 24, 2016
Shemini Atzeret
The final day (in Israel the final two days) at the conclusion of Sukkot is nominally a separate holiday; thus, there is no pomegranate of meals in the Sukkah, nor use of the lulav, neither is recited on etrog. The special prayer for rain is recited during the musaf service.

OCT 25, 2016
Simchat Torah
The day after Sukkot, Simchat Torah marks the completion of the annual Torah reading and the beginning of the cycle for the coming year. It is celebrated with singing, dancing and merry processions of people carrying Torahs and children waving flags.

DEC 25, 2016 – JAN 1, 2017
Chanukah
In 167 BCE, the Maccabees led a band of Jews in a successful battle against the occupying Syrian-Greeks, who had desecrated the Second Temple’s eternal light. Miraculously, one day’s supply of oil lasted eight days, until more could be found. The Chanukah menorah is lit for eight nights to celebrate that miracle. Children play dreidel, and foods fried in oil are customary.

FEB 11, 2017
Tu B’Shevat
This holiday, the New Year of the Trees, marks the coming of spring. It is celebrated by having picnics, planting trees and eating fruit.

MAR 12, 2017
Purim
The Festival of Lots recalls the rescue of the Jews of Ancient Persia from annihilation at the hands of Haman, who cast lots to choose this day for his plot to kill the Jews. Queen Esther and her cousin, Mordecai, foiled his plan. On Purim, the Megillah of Esther is read, and the holiday is celebrated with festivity, costumes and noisemakers. Hamantaschen are the traditional food and mishloach manot (gift packages) are exchanged.

APR 24, 2017
Yom HaShoah
Also known as “Holocaust Remembrance Day,” Yom HaShoah is marked by memorials and dedications to those who perished in the Holocaust.

APR 27, 2017
Yom Hazikaron
Israel’s National Memorial Day honors veterans and fallen military personnel.

MAY 2, 2017
Yom Ha’atzmaut
Israel Independence Day is celebrated festively by Jews throughout the world commemorating the Israeli Declaration of Independence in 1948.

MAY 14, 2017
Lag B’omer
This holiday is celebrated on the 33rd day of the Counting of the Omer. It is a tribute to Jewish martyrs. In Israel, Lag B’omer is celebrated as a symbol for the fighting Jewish spirit.

MAY 24, 2017
Yom Yerushalayim
Jerusalem Day commemorates the liberation of the city of Jerusalem during the 1967 Six-Day War.

MAY 31 – JUNE 1, 2017
Shavuot
This holiday marks the end of the Counting of the Omer. It recalls Moses’ receiving the Torah. The Megillah of Ruth is read, and all night Torah study is customary. Dairy food, honey, and floral decorations are traditional.

APR 11 – 18, 2017
Passover
The Exodus of the Jews from Egypt is celebrated with the eight-day festival of Passover. Bidding the home of chametz (leavened food) and eating only unleavened items commemorate the haste in which the former slaves fled Egypt, leaving them too little time for their bread dough to rise. Jews retell the story of the Exodus during their Passover Seders.

AUG 1, 2017
Tisha B’Av
This somber day is a reminder of the destruction of the First and Second Temples in Jerusalem, which occurred on the same Hebrew calendar date. It is traditional to fast.

The 2015 annual report of the Jewish Federation of St. Louis recognizes the thousands of individuals and families who have invested in our community last year. It demonstrates the way the Jewish Federation of St. Louis has had an impact on the community.

2015 was a year of multiple challenges to our community and the Jewish people around the world. Thanks to your investments, the Jewish Federation of St. Louis was here to support these challenges in three unique ways.

First, following the 2014 attacks on the JCC in Kansas City, our Federation invested and implemented “RAVE,” a community-wide communication system to keep the leadership of all our institutions informed in emergency situations. We did this because situational awareness is one of the most important ways to minimize damage in case of a natural or human-caused emergency. Community security is one of our key strategic priorities and we will continue to look for opportunities to provide support in this area.

Second, the need for RAVE reflects a concern with growing anti-Semitism around the world. Perhaps the most significant growth has been seen in Europe where in January of 2015 a terror attack targeted Jews along with a bastion of civil society and free speech. Working with our partner agencies, the Jewish Agency for Israel and the American Joint Distribution Committee, our community joined 150 other Federated communities throughout North America to show our solidarity. We supported security reviews and strengthened local institutions. And we also recognized the growing interest of French Jews to consider making Israel their permanent home. We will continue this work throughout the world, connecting our community in St. Louis to the global Jewish community.

Finally, we know that Israel is facing continued calls by groups to wage economic boycotts, divestments and sanctions against Israel in their attempt to resolve the Palestinian issue through non-violent civil protest. While we recognize the situation of the Palestinians and remain steadfast in our support for a two state solution, we will continue to strongly oppose efforts to inflict economic and cultural harm on Israel. We will continue to oppose the growing delegitimization of Israel as a democratic Jewish state. Jewish Federation of St. Louis has thus continued to support the Israel Action Network that works in partnership with other groups to stop the advancement of the BDS movement.

The fight against BDS is mostly a reactive and defensive fight. In St. Louis we have gone on the offense looking for ways to strengthen Israel in a manner that builds strong economic relationships. In 2015, our efforts to support a Missouri trade desk in Israel came to fruition. They further culminated in a trade mission by Governor Nixon and a bi-partisan group of State Legislative leadership in March of 2016 to grow the economic relationship between the state of Missouri and Israel. Additionally, we have continued to support the efforts of BioSTL in helping them recruit Israeli businesses looking for North American offices to grow. Cultivating stronger ties between our state and Israel builds economic and cultural relationships and helps promote a fuller picture of Israel. It is a win-win for us and for the region.

“Security” also refers to the Jewish Federation of St. Louis’ role in ensuring that all individuals have the ability to live free from material deprivation. In 2015, we were delighted to help secure resources for the new Covenant Place Phase 1 facility that would open in June of 2016. Covenant Place provides quality independent living to low-income seniors, and does so in a Jewish environment. If you have not seen the new facility, we would urge you to schedule a visit. You will be proud of the work that they accomplished, and feel good to know that as a supporter of the Jewish Federation of St. Louis, you have played a role in the completion of the first phase.

If security was a main theme of 2015, there was of course so much more.

2015 also saw the integration of our work with the Central Agency for Jewish Education (CAJE), and the start of the Wexner Fellows Program (thanks to the extraordinary support of Pam and Ron Rubin and The Rubin Family Foundation.) It marked the eighth trip of The Rubin Israel Experience, and the Staenberg Family Foundation’s 10th anniversary. We created a Center for Jewish Learning and expanded our Sh’mi: Listen! Speaker’s Series in partnership with our congregations and agencies. We grew our subscriptions to PJ Library achieving important milestones along the way.

How does the Jewish Federation of St. Louis do all this work?
Since 1901, the Jewish Federation of St. Louis has been pursuing its mission to “preserve and enhance Jewish life in St. Louis, Israel and around the globe.” Created to meet the needs of new immigrants from Eastern Europe by “federating” our social service fundraising efforts, our organization has transformed to address the changing needs of the Jewish people.

Today, we are here to ensure that every individual can live their life with dignity, meaning and purpose.

Dignity: ensuring that the most vulnerable have a place to live, food to eat and clothes to protect them.

Meaning: providing points of access to anyone who wishes to make the Jewish community part of a life well lived.

Purpose: guided by Jewish values, inspiring service to anyone in need.

Jewish Federation of St. Louis does this in two ways. Federation works like a Foundation for Jewish Philanthropy investing in projects and organizations that advance our mission. Like any other non-profit foundation, this involves five key steps:

Assess the needs of our community;

Plan with community leadership to meet those needs;

Raise the resources to execute those plans by inspiring donors;

Invest resources in the community to implement our plans;

Evaluate the impact of those investments.

Last year Federation invested over $13 million to advance these philanthropic goals.

In addition to serving as a Foundation for Jewish Philanthropy, for over 30 years, the Jewish Federation of St. Louis has provided direct services to the community. These services include the following organizations and programs:
Holocaust Museum and Learning Center (HMLC): Serving over 30,000 visitors each year since 1995.

The St. Louis Naturally Occurring Retirement Community (NORC): Since 2004, providing volunteers to help hundreds of older members of our community age in place with dignity.

Center for Jewish Learning (CJL): Convening the community and collaborative partners around education while also supporting professional development for congregational and agency teachers. Also home to Sh’ma: Listen! Speaker Series and Brodsky Library

St. Louis Community Archives: Preserving over 150 years of St. Louis Jewish community history.

The Millstone Institute for Jewish Leadership: A community wide approach to engaging and inspiring volunteer leaders and professionals.

The Rubin Israel Experience and the Wexner Heritage Program: Both programs sponsored by Pam and Ron Rubin and The Rubin Family Foundation.

Community Security: Providing support to our institutions ranging from grant-writing advice to the establishment of the RAVE communications network to maintain situational awareness.

Concierge for Families with Young Children: Connecting new families in St. Louis to the Jewish community.

PJ Library: Providing free books to everyone 6 months to 8 years old, fostering discussion and engagement on themes from our tradition.

JEW314: Part of our NextGEN initiative to engage millennials, made possible by a multi-year grant from the Staenberg Family Foundation.

Operational support: Including marketing and accounting services for our community organizations and support to our four supporting foundations: the Staenberg Family Foundation, the Lubin-Green Foundation, the Kranzberg Foundation and the Women’s Auxiliary Foundation for Jewish Aged.

JewishinStLouis.com: Since 2004, the Jewish community’s webportal to Jewish St. Louis.

Israel Center: Connecting our community to the people and land of Israel through travel, exploration and meaningful educational and professional experiences.

And so much more!

How are we doing?

In 2014, we began an effort to focus on greater engagement as a community development organization. We recognize that before individuals will be interested in supporting our work, they have to be engaged. By working on engagement first, we move from a model focused primarily on fundraising, to one that also inspires individuals to join together in our mission – where Jewish community is part of a life well lived.

Women’s Philanthropy is a good example of how this engagement and community-development approach has strengthened our community. After reconstituting their lay leadership, 2015 saw a renewed arm of the Jewish Federation of St. Louis in which women were inspired to “learn,” “do” and “give” in a series of transformational events. These events included a program celebrating female clergy, volunteer projects to serve those in need and culminated in an unprecedented “L’Chaim” event that attracted over 650 women for an inspiring evening at the Ritz.

The successes are seen not only with the women. 2015 saw the most important growth in Federated giving in a generation. Here are the highlights:

• Our donor base grew for only the third time since 1992. At three percent it was the strongest growth of the prior growth years of 2001 and 2006 and was accomplished without an international crisis.

• Our largest donor increases came among those between the ages of 35 and 70. Ten percent more Gen Xers (born 1965-1981) made an annual campaign contribution in 2015 than they had in 2014, and the total number of baby boom donors (born 1946-1964) grew by eight percent. Both of these were the most significant growth for these cohorts in a generation.

• In St. Louis we had three percent more donors during 2015 whereas the entire Federation system lost four percent of their donors in the same period. Our results outpaced the system by seven points.

• Our success was not only in donor growth but in total dollars: While our campaign was just a bit ahead of where it was in 2014 it was only the third time since 1992 that we matched or beat inflation. The last time our campaign matched or exceeded inflation was in 1998. Every year since then, the real value of the campaign has declined, sometimes significantly.

Despite these hopeful signs, significant challenges remain. Most importantly, approximately 1/3 of the total dollars donated to the annual campaign is given by individuals who are 80 years old and older. That’s why the total donor growth is so very important. We are rebuilding the base so that we have greater distribution across the ages to provide greater sustainability for the community.

In absolute terms, 2015 was an important year for the Jewish Federation of St. Louis that should give us hope for the future. We are working hard to make sure that growth continues and we continue to grow our base. Because of our age-related exposure, it will be exceedingly difficult for our total dollars to grow quickly. But by maintaining inflation, we can at least aim to ensure that our agencies, programs and services can be strong and sustainable for many years to come.

Jewish Federation of St. Louis does so many different things in so many different ways. We are a Foundation for Jewish Philanthropy, helping inspire donors to invest where our needs to support Jewish community in St. Louis, Israel and around the world are most pressing. And we do so in a manner that builds the entire ecosystem of Jewish life. We are also a provider of direct services that strengthen our Jewish community and help individuals find their own entry point into a life of Jewish engagement and service.

The annual report you now have in your hands presents to you a review of what we did in 2015 and an explicit “thank you” to so many of you who helped us achieve these gains. We are looking forward to an even more dynamic year ahead!

CAJE became part of Jewish Federation of St. Louis on July 1, 2015.
JEWISH FEDERATION OF ST. LOUIS

is committed to preserving and enhancing the Jewish community through the support of local, national and international agencies, programs, services and innovative projects. Each year, the Jewish Federation of St. Louis’ Annual Campaign, targeted giving, ongoing planned giving opportunities and supporting foundations strategically allocate more than $13 million.*

$8.56 million of our allocations are made through a volunteer led allocations process based on these 6 strategic priorities.

1. Ensure the Jewish identity and engagement of future generations.
2. Create a vibrant, embracing, local Jewish community that will help retain and be attractive to young adults and families with young children.
3. Educate and advocate for a strong Israel and safe Jewish world.
4. Build a human services safety net to identify, monitor and care for the most vulnerable and isolated Jews.
5. Recruit, train and develop exceptional human resources.
6. Strengthen and optimize the community’s infrastructure (facilities, technology, data, etc.) to meet present and future realities and challenges.

The following pages will show the IMPACT of our allocations in two ways:

A. Unrestricted allocations to our network of beneficiary agencies (see page 6).

B. Strategic Program Grants that support programs and services in four main categories:
   a. Building a Vibrant Jewish St. Louis
   b. Enhancing St. Louis’ Attachment to Israel
   c. Supporting Local Individuals in Need
   d. Israel and Overseas Initiatives

* The P&A report is based on the allocations approved by P&A for the July 2015 to June 2016 year.
 SOURCES OF FUNDING

$13.297M TOTAL

- Annual Campaign and Unrestricted Endowments
  $8.56M (64.3%)

- Supporting Foundations
  $2.49M (18.7%)

- Philanthropic Funds
  $1.23M (9.3%)

- Restricted Endowments
  $1.02M (7.7%)
Jewish Federation distributed a total of $13.3 million through the community-based Planning & Allocations process, donor-advised Philanthropic Funds, restricted endowments, and supporting foundations. The Planning & Allocations process ($8.56M) is described on the following pages. The other sources of funding are:

Philanthropic Funds ($1.23M) enable donors to support causes they care about most and offers important tax advantages. Philanthropic Funds held by the Jewish Federation of St. Louis are distributed to organizations in St. Louis and throughout the United States that serve Jewish charitable purposes; organizations that provide programs in the areas of education, inter-group relations, culture, health and social services; and other organizations in the US that provide an identifiable benefit to the welfare of the local St. Louis community.

Restricted Endowments ($1.02M) are funds of Jewish Federation of St. Louis that provide an annual income or a tailored stream of payments to support programs, projects, agencies, organizations or initiatives of particular interest to donors and their family members. Endowments support the annual Federation campaign, local congregations, beneficiary agencies, scholarships, and assistance to designated target populations such as the elderly or low income individuals.

There are currently four Supporting Foundations ($2.49M) of Jewish Federation of St. Louis. The Supporting Foundation allows donors to remain involved in the process of distributing their charitable dollars with significant tax benefits. Supporting Foundations established through Jewish Federation of St. Louis offer a vehicle for donors to create an entity that exists in perpetuity and provide an enduring legacy for the donor, his or her family and future generations.

1. The Staenberg Family Foundation's highest funding priority is to support services, projects and programs directed toward creating a thriving Jewish community. The Foundation’s other significant areas of interest are services, projects and programs relating to arts and culture, children, education, and medical research.

2. Women's Auxiliary Foundation for Jewish Aged is focused on providing financial support for programs and organizations that ensure the dignity and honor of the Jewish elderly in the community at large.

3. The Lubin-Green Foundation provides support for programs in St. Louis, Israel, and overseas, with an emphasis on services for children and seniors and Israel/Diaspora relations. The Foundation supports Partnership Gether, which links St. Louis and its sister region in Israel, Yokneam-Megiddo.

4. The Kranzberg Foundation provides funds to benefit the Jewish community of St. Louis, specifically focused on the outreach to and engagement of the "Next Generation."
CAMPAIGN AND UNRESTRICTED ENDOWMENT ALLOCATIONS

$8.56M TOTAL

- Unrestricted-Local Agencies: $3.48M (40.7%)
- Strategic Program Grants: $2.8M (33.1%)
- Jewish Agency for Israel (JAFI) & Joint Distribution Committee (JDC) Unrestricted: $1.6M (19.6%)
- National Agencies & Dues: $475K (5.5%)
- Research Funds: $42K (.5%)
- Discretionary Funds: $50K (.6%)
Jewish Federation of St. Louis allocated $8.56 million through its community-based Planning & Allocations process for 2016-17, with funding derived from the 2015 campaign and unrestricted endowments.

Selected new and increased allocations included:

- $554,000 to five Jewish day schools, a 12% increase
- $12,000 to B’Yachad Shabbat Experience for young adults, a 20% increase and $5,000 to Ashreinu, a St. Louis City minyan for young adults
- $15,000 to the Jewish Agency for Israel’s Victims of Terror Project, a 50% increase
- $8,000 to Bat Melech, an Israeli safe home for Orthodox domestic violence survivors
- $10,000 to Road to Recovery, a volunteer program that transports patients from the Palestinian Authority to Israeli hospitals
- $10,000 to the Shalom Hartman Institute for a day care and learning center for African refugee children
- $10,000 to the Center for Women’s Justice to support litigation and outreach to eliminate the blacklist of people the Chief Rabbinate of Israel deems ineligible to marry Jews

In addition, funding was approved for three Requests for Proposals (RFPs) that will directly address issues identified in the St. Louis Jewish Community Study: $75,000 to address poverty in the St. Louis Jewish community, $30,000 for Jewish early childhood program support and $100,000 for a major initiative to engage families with young children.

STRATEGIC PRIORITIES

There are six strategic priorities that the Jewish Federation of St. Louis views as essential to achieve our community vision. Each of these strategic priorities is supported by defined outcomes, numerous specific strategies, tactics and best practices. Although these six priorities do not represent the totality of the Jewish Federation of St. Louis’ funding and efforts; they do define where the great majority of our time and money is focused. Here is an overview of the six Strategic Priorities the Jewish Federation of St. Louis provides to accomplish each goal.

A

Ensure the Jewish identity and engagement of future generations.

• Concierge for Jewish Families with Young Children
• Shalom Baby
• PJ Library
• Chai St. Louis

JEWISH HOLIDAYS 5777

Note: Holidays begin at sundown of the previous day.

OCT 3 – 4, 2016
Rosh Hashanah

Literally meaning “Head of the Year,” Rosh Hashanah marks the beginning of the Jewish calendar year. It begins a period of repentance and prayer which ends on Yom Kippur. The holiday is celebrated with feasts and apples dipped in honey to symbolize the hope for a sweeter year to come.

OCT 12, 2016
Yom Kippur

The Day of Atonement is the holiest day of the Jewish calendar, marking the end of the 10 days of repentance. It is spent in fasting and fervent prayer. Sounding the shofar signals the holiday’s end.

OCT 24, 2016
Shemini Atzeret

The final day (in Israel the final two days) at the conclusion of Sukkot is nominally a separate holiday; thus, there is no paaning of meals in the sukkah, nor use of the lulav, with fruit and vegetables, set up to recall the booths in which the Jews lived during their journey from Egypt. The holiday is marked by processions with the lulav (palm branch with myrtle and willow) and etrog.

OCT 25, 2016
Simchat Torah

The day after Sukkot, Simchat Torah marks the completion of the annual Torah reading and the beginning of the cycle for the coming year. It is celebrated with singing, dancing and merry processions of people carrying Torahs and children waving flags.

<tr>
<td>In 167 BCE, the Maccabees led a band of Jews in a successful battle against the occupying Syrian-Greeks, who had desecrated the Second Temple's eternal light. Miraculously, one day's supply of oil lasted eight days, until more could be found. The Chanukah menorah is lit for eight nights to celebrate that miracle. Children play dreidel, and foods fried in oil are customary.</td>

<td>The Festival of Lots recalls the rescue of the Jews of Ancient Persia from annihilation at the hands of Haman, who cast lots to choose this day for his plot to kill the Jews. Queen Esther and her cousin, Mordechai, foiled his plan. On Purim, the Megillah of Esther is read, and the holiday is celebrated with festivity, costumes and noisemakers. Hamantaschen are traditional food and mishloach manot (gift packages) are exchanged.</td>

<td>The Exodus of the Jews from Egypt is celebrated with the eight-day festival of Passover. Bidding the home of chametz (leavened food) and eating only unleavened items commemorates the haste in which the former slaves fled Egypt, leaving them too little time for their bread to rise. Jews retell the story of the Exodus during their Passover Seders.</td>
