The Annual Rubin Feldman Memorial Lecture
Monday, May 8, 2017, 7:00 pm • Holocaust Museum & Learning Center Theater
12 Millstone Campus Drive, St. Louis, MO 63146
Some were Pulitzer Prize-winning muckrakers. Some were the targets of racist mobs. And some were Jewish refugees whose parents were trapped in Hitler Europe. Come hear Dr. Rafael Medoff recount the amazing story of a handful of American cartoonists – including the beloved Dr. Seuss – who tried to alert the American public about the Nazi genocide. After the presentation, Dr. Medoff will sign copies of his new book, Cartoonists Against the Holocaust, which will be available at a special discount price.

This event is free and open to the public but registration is required. Please contact Andrew Goldfeder at 314-442-3711 or AGoldfeder@JFedSTL.org, or the AISH office at 314-862-2474 or CWolff@Aish.com.

Generously sponsored by the Rubin (of blessed memory) and Gloria Feldman Family Education Institute of the Holocaust Museum & Learning Center.

CommutUNITY: Making a World of Difference
On February 23, over 300 women gathered at Lambert-St. Louis Airport to celebrate the amazing Jewish women’s volunteer organizations in St. Louis. Sivan Ya’ari, Founder & CEO of Innovation: Africa, shared her story of how she started Innovation Africa and delivered an empowering message of how each of us can share an idea and change the world. The event included a dedication by the Fox Family, in loving memory of Greg Fox z”l, honoring the Jewish women volunteers in St. Louis.

I am excited to share the details of our recent journey with my 50 new friends as we traveled together to visit Israel in late February and early March. We were participants in the Jewish Federation of St. Louis “Show Me Israel” Community Mission, and although this was my fourth trip, this trip was truly unique, and certainly memorable.

Travelers on this mission had the opportunity to see Israel from one of three perspectives. You could choose to learn about the business and innovation of this amazing country or experience the flavors of Israel or travel though the art and culture. Each track was led by a senior staff member of our Jewish Federation of St. Louis, all of whom have been to Israel on multiple occasions, and one of three Israeli tour guides—Michal, Mike or Shlomo.

Before departing each day for our individual track adventures, we met together to learn about Israel from speakers such as Professor Dan Ben David, President of the Shoresh Institution, and Yossi Klein Halevi, Senior Fellow at the Shalom Hartman Institute. And we were together most evenings for events such as a private tour and then dinner at the Rabin Center.

Whether a first time visitor or someone returning to Israel, the feedback was universally positive. In fact, many of my fellow “Show Me Israel” travelers expressed an interest in learning when the next mission is scheduled so they can sign up and bring their friends.

I am very proud of the work of our Jewish Federation here in St. Louis, in Israel and around the world. We look forward to planning future trips and making travel to Israel for first time visitors a reality, and returning those who look forward to seeing Israel in new and different ways.

Wishing you joy and many blessings at Passover and throughout the year.

It would be my pleasure to visit with you. You can reach me at HWallace@JFedSTL.org.

PresenTense Partnership for the 2017 JFACE Accelerator

PresenTense is a community of innovators and entrepreneurs, thinkers and leaders, creators and educators, from around the world, who employ entrepreneurship as a tool to enrich communal life, grow local economies and solve critical issues facing society. PresenTense provides us with trainers and curriculum, and shares a network of over 1,000 Accelerator alumni across the world.

Two of our innovators, Anna Altman and Andy Brown, have teamed up on a project! See below to hear how the JFACE seminars have facilitated this connection.

“During the most recent seminar we spent some time talking about how each of us in the group could be a resource for others in the group. As I was walking around the room, attaching post it notes to everyone’s posters, it occurred to me that I needed to add some programming options to our Camp Manitowa mother/daughter retreats. We try to rotate the offerings and keep things fresh. As I was reading Anna’s poster I had the idea that perhaps her classes would be something our retreat participants would enjoy. I had a brief conversation with her at the end of the seminar and then followed up and confirmed yesterday. The whole thing was a direct result of Cambrie (the trainer) and the exercise she had us do about using each other as resources.” - Andy Brown

“Andy offers a tremendous opportunity for Jewish Families who might not otherwise have access to camp and community. I have always been a huge fan of his initiative, his vision and his integrity. He always offers great insights to our cohort during the JFACE seminars. Andy’s initiative to help Jewish kids have a better experience is very aligned with that of my brand Train Your Inner Warrior, so I jumped at the opportunity to help enrich the experience of his attendees.” - Anna Altman

April 30 - Toyland (Spielzeugland)
Directed by Jochen Alexander Fredank, Germany, 2008, 14 minutes, German with English subtitles
In this Academy award-winning film, a German mother misleads her son about where the Nazis are sending their Jewish neighbors, including the young boy’s best friend.

April 30 - Torte Bluma
Directed by Benjamin Ross, USA, 2005, 22 minutes
This sobering film was inspired by a real-life episode in the life of Franz Stangl, the German commandant at the Treblinka Extermination Camp, and the Jewish prisoner who cooks his meals. Starring Stellan Skarsgård and Simon McBurney.

April 30 - After
Directed by Lukasz Konopa, UK, 2012, 7 minutes, Ambient sound only
This short, powerful film documents contemporary life in Auschwitz. In an observation from dusk till dawn, it portrays the “theatre of everyday life” around the grim confines and captures the energies and activities of a world fascinated by this infamous killing center. Introductory remarks and post-screening discussion facilitated by Erin McGlothlin, Associate Professor of German and Jewish Studies at Washington University. Dr. McGlothlin’s main research interests are German-Jewish literature and the literature of the Holocaust. In 2006, she published Second Generation Holocaust Literature: Legacies of Survival and Perpetration.

June 25 - Phoenix
Directed by Christian Petzold, Germany, 2014, 98 minutes, in German with English subtitles
A brilliant performance by Nina Hoss and stunning cinematography mark this complex film about a woman disfigured during the Holocaust, who returns to Germany, assumes another identity, and seeks to discover if the man she loved betrayed her. Introductory remarks and post screening discussion facilitated by Jennifer Kapczynski, Associate Professor of German, Washington University. Dr. Kapczynski’s research focuses primarily on 20th century German film. She is the author of The German Patient: Crisis and Recovery in Postwar Culture (2008) and the co-editor of two books: A New History of German Cinema (2012), and Persistent Legacy: The Holocaust and German Studies (2016).

July 30 - Karski & the Lords of Humanity (St. Louis Premiere!)
Directed by Slawomir Grünberg, USA, 2015, 72 minutes
This powerful documentary, interspersed with graphic animation, tells the story of Jan Karski, the Polish underground courier who traveled across occupied Europe to inform the Allied powers of Nazi war crimes against the Jews of Europe in an effort to prevent the Holocaust. Karski carried his dreadful eye witness report to Britain and the United States, hoping that it would shake the conscience of the powerful leaders, or—as he would call them—the “Lords of Humanity.” Introductory speaker to be determined. Generous support for this screening provided by Saint Louis Polonia Inc.
