BENEFICIARY AGENCY HIGHLIGHT

Untold Sacrifices: The St. Louis Jewish Community in the Great War

The Missouri Humanities Council (MHC) is proud to announce that the Missouri Humanities Council (MHC) is a recipient of a $2,500 grant to the Jewish Federation of St. Louis in support of a new permanent exhibit entitled “Untold Sacrifices: The St. Louis Jewish Community in the Great War,” which celebrates the Missouri Humanities Council’s 50th anniversary. The exhibit will highlight the story of the Jewish community’s role in World War I and will honor the effort and sacrifices made by members of the Jewish community. The exhibit will be on view in the wellness center hallway on the first floor of the Jewish Federation of St. Louis building and will be open to the public from November 5, 2017. The exhibit will be underwritten by the Harlene and Marvin Wool Endowment Fund.

Dr. Petra DeWitt, Assistant Professor of History at Missouri State University, will provide the keynote address on the exhibit’s opening day, Sunday, November 5. Dr. DeWitt’s lecture will begin at 1:30 pm at the Adult Day Care Center at the J’s Staenberg Family Complex.

The exhibit is also being underwritten by the Jewish Community Archives of St. Louis. The Center for Jewish Learning (CJL) is excited to announce that the exhibit is underwritten by the Missouri Humanities Council, the Missouri Humanities Council (MHC), and the Missouri Humanities Council. We are living through some concerning times, and your investment in what we do is always another answer, reflecting the classic Jewish tendency to answer a question with a question. That answer to the question of ‘why?’ is not new; it is as old as the Torah itself.

The answer to the question is always another answer, reflecting the classic Jewish tendency to answer a question with a question. The question is always another question. That’s why we always get back to this question. It is the question of why.

Your investments in the Campaign support our ongoing investment in the highest level of quality care for seniors in our community. Our Caregiving Connections program, for example, is now being rolled out in our new setting at Millstone Place, a senior community for lower-income residents on the Millstone Campus.

... who share their vision. And, I hope that our entire community will recognize the diverse reasons that lead various community members to choose their path to Judaism.

For those of you who have been asked to share your story, thank you. And for those of you who have not been asked to share your story, I hope you will consider giving this year – whether it is a renewed commitment, an increased gift to help us manage rising costs or a first-time gift. Every contribution matters and touches a life. Thank you to generous sponsors: The Ritz-Carlton St. Louis, BJC Healthcare, Vitas Healthcare and Barnes Jewish Hospital.

The Kranzberg Family Foundation, a Supporting Foundation of the Jewish Federation of St. Louis, is accepting applications for the 2018-2019 Kranzberg Family Foundation Fellowship Program. The program provides funds to support the professional development of community leaders, enabling them to enhance their leadership skills in the broader Jewish community. The program is open to full-time employees of Jewish community organizations, who demonstrate a commitment to advancing the goals of their organization and the Jewish community.

Applications are due by June 28, 2018. For more information, please visit www.JFedSTL.org/Local-Trips.

ON THE COVER

... and make a strengthened Jewish community. Eighteen participants, representing Jewish organizations across the St. Louis region, joined the mission as part of the third cohort of participants. In addition to touring Israeli historic sites, the group went to Kibbutz Ein Gedi to learn about the Foundation’s programs for at-risk girls and boys.

For more information about the training, please contact Karen Sher at JFSTL.org/Coaching2017.

The Interfaith Couples Mission was designed to help participants learn about the importance of the land of Israel, its history, and its people. Eight couples recently returned from the mission as part of the third cohort of participants. In addition to touring Israeli historic sites, the group went to Kibbutz Ein Gedi to learn about the Foundation’s programs for at-risk girls and boys.

FROM OUR CHAIR, Gerald P. Greiman

As we prepare to introduce our 2017 Annual Campaign, many of you, as well as those of you who will be with us in an hour, may be wondering about the current state of the Jewish community. It’s a question that is on the minds of many who follow the news, and it’s a question that we will address as we begin our Campaign. To that end, I’d like to share with you some of the findings from our recent study, "The State of the Jewish Community in St. Louis: A Demographic and Engagement Profile." The study was completed by the polling firm of JACOBS and was designed to provide a snapshot of the Jewish community in the St. Louis metropolitan area. The study was conducted between June 1 and September 1, 2017, and a total of 1,000 households were surveyed.

The findings of the study indicate that the Jewish community in St. Louis is diverse and vibrant. The study found that there are 130,000 households with a Jewish identity in the St. Louis metropolitan area, and that the community is growing. The study also found that the majority of the Jewish community in St. Louis is young, with 60% of the respondents being under the age of 45. The study found that the community is highly engaged, with 80% of the respondents indicating that they participate in at least one Jewish organization.

However, the study also found that there are challenges facing the Jewish community in St. Louis. The study found that there is a decline in the number of Jews who are attending synagogue services. The study also found that there is a decline in the number of Jews who are participating in Jewish education. The study found that there is a decline in the number of Jewish organizations that are active in the community.

In light of these findings, the Campaign for Israel is dedicated to strengthening the Jewish community in St. Louis. The Campaign is determined to ensure that the Jewish community in St. Louis is vibrant and engaged. The Campaign is determined to ensure that the Jewish community in St. Louis is diverse and inclusive. The Campaign is determined to ensure that the Jewish community in St. Louis is strong and capable of meeting the challenges of the future.

We are living through some concerning times, and your investment in the Campaign for Israel is critical. Your investment in the Campaign for Israel will ensure that the Jewish community in St. Louis is strong and capable of meeting the challenges of the future. Your investment in the Campaign for Israel will ensure that the Jewish community in St. Louis is vibrant and engaged. Your investment in the Campaign for Israel will ensure that the Jewish community in St. Louis is diverse and inclusive. WHAT’S HAPPENING AT THE CENTER FOR JEWISH LEARNING

The Center for Jewish Learning (CJL) of the Jewish Federation of St. Louis invites you to discover or deepen your dive into the richness of Jewish learning. If you wish, you can serve the Jewish community and teach as a volunteer; if you’re a newcomer to adult Jewish study, a seasoned veteran or someone in-between, you are certain to find a course that suits your needs and your interests—and in which you feel “at home.”

All are taught by experienced teachers who welcome and value every Jewish learner. Whether you’re a newcomer to the Jewish faith or tradition, or a veteran who wants to explore a new dimension of faith, you’ll find classes to match your needs and interests. CJL offers more than 70 courses for adults with varied interests and backgrounds. CJL courses are taught on the campuses of five different universities in St. Louis, or at the Jewish Federation of St. Louis, and at the Jewish Community Center of St. Louis.

For more information or to RSVP, call Andrew Goldfeder at 314-442-3711 or email AGoldfeder@JFedSTL.org.

For information about scholarships or questions on any of our adult learning programs, contact Rabbi Nathan at RNathan@JFedSTL.org.

WHAT’S HAPPENING AT THE HOLOCAUST MUSEUM & LEARNING CENTER

Untold Sacrifices. The St. Louis Jewish Community in the Great War will be open November 5-December 31, 2017 to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the U.S. entering World War I. The exhibit will explore the greater St. Louis community the extent of the Jewish community’s involvement in the war and will honor the fallen and sacrifices made by members of the Jewish community, both at home and in military service.

In 2016, the Missouri Humanities Council (MHC) awarded a $3,500 grant to the Jewish Federation of St. Louis in support of the exhibit “Untold Sacrifices: The St. Louis Jewish Community in the Great War,” to be open November 5-December 31, 2017. The exhibit is being underwritten by the Harlene and Marvin Wool Endowment Fund.

For more information or to RSVP, call Andrew Goldfeder at 314-442-3711 or email AGoldfeder@JFedSTL.org. The exhibit is also being underwritten by the Heritage and Marvin Wool Endowment Fund.
